Katrina,

I'm delighted to tell you I have completed fabrication of the spoonbill sculpture. It turned out spectacularly. Attached are photos documenting the process.

I would like to invite you to the studio to see it in person and discuss the final finish.

After seeing it in steel, it is my artistic opinion to not paint it pink. The beautiful surface quality of the metal will be lost, and I am concerned the paint will cheapen it and make it look like fiberglass or at worst, comparable to a plastic pink lawn flamingo. Your opinion would be greatly appreciated..

Kind regards,

Donald
