CONSOR Announces Acquisition of TKW Consulting Engineers

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

FORT MYERS, FL / October 11, 2019 - CONSOR Engineers, LLC (“CONSOR”), a portfolio company of Keystone Capital, Inc., has completed its acquisition of TKW Consulting Engineers, LLC (“TKW”).

CONSOR is a North American transportation and infrastructure engineering firm providing services in planning and design, structural assessment, and construction services. The firm was created in 2018 when four entrepreneur-led businesses came together with the vision of creating an engineering firm with the scale to win high-profile projects on the national stage while staying true to their entrepreneurial roots and maintaining their commitment to provide exceptional service to their clients and local communities. With more than 40 offices across the US and Canada, CONSOR is approaching 700 employees and was recently ranked #134 on ENR’s 2019 list of the top 500 design firms. The company continues to actively pursue like-minded business leaders to expand and strengthen its geographic footprint and diversify into complementary services. Please visit www.consoreng.com for more information.

TKW is a Fort Myers-based engineering and inspection firm specializing in water/wastewater, structural, and civil projects. Through its 30-year history, TKW has served its local communities and other clients with a superior level of service, punching above its weight class and competing with the big names in this industry. The addition of TKW diversifies CONSOR into the water/wastewater engineering market, a high priority growth objective for the company. CONSOR is committed to building around the TKW team and legacy to establish a leading water/wastewater presence across all of Florida and beyond. Please visit www.tkwonline.com for more information.

“We are thrilled to welcome TKW to the CONSOR family,” commented Sandeep Patil, CEO of CONSOR. “TKW is a collection of ‘do-the-right-thing’ individuals who embody the CONSOR culture. Their technical expertise in water/wastewater and other disciplines is the perfect fit as we look to diversify, and we see incredible potential to build around this talented team.”

“CONSOR is the perfect place for our people to grow and thrive, a place they can stretch themselves to new heights in their professional development,” remarked Trudi Williams, Founder of TKW. “We’re excited to bring our clients the same level of exceptional service and local expertise for which TKW has always been known, but with the added capabilities and resources of CONSOR at our back.”

About TKW

Since 1989, TKW has provided quality consulting engineering services for government and private development. TKW is based in Fort Myers, Lee County, Florida. The firm specializes in civil, structural, and utility (water & wastewater) engineering. TKW also offers a full range of geographic information system (GIS) services.
